

Jacqueline Schultz, RN, MSN, CNAA, joined Suburban Hospital in September 2005 and serves as Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer. She came to Suburban from the Saint Barnabas Healthcare System in New Jersey, where she was a nurse executive. She has a broad range of clinical expertise achieved during more than 30 years of healthcare experience that includes an impressive record of progressive growth in nursing leadership. She served as Vice President of Patient Care Services for Irvington General Hospital from 2003 to 2005, and prior to that was Administrative Director of Patient Care Services at Monmouth Medical Center for 4 years. Prior to being named Executive Vice President and COO at Suburban, she served as Senior Vice President of Clinical Operations and Chief Nursing Officer. Her responsibilities for the Suburban Hospital Healthcare System include oversight of: nursing, all clinical services, quality and patient safety, utilization/outcomes, safety and security, planning, and community health and wellness.

Ms. Schultz currently serves as Secretary and Board member of the Maryland Organization of Nurse Executives. She received her BSN degree from Cornell University and her MSN degree from Seton Hall University.